Professional Conduct	8/14/90
Acting Professionally	Policy Number 417.1

Teachers will conduct themselves in a professional manner by not discussing in a critical manner the performance of other school personnel.

(1) Should a teacher believe that criticism of another member of the staff is necessary for the good of the school program, such discussions should be conducted through appropriate channels, starting with the building principal or division administrator as in the case of Special Services.

(2) Continuing such practice after warning by the principal will be sufficient cause for nonrenewal of contract.
