

Health and Safety Procedures

2022-2023 School Year

Updated Proposal for Board Review – September 2022

The goal of the board of trustees is to have full, in-person learning during the 2022-2023 school year with as little disruption to the learning environment as possible.

However, the board is mindful of its obligation to take necessary and appropriate actions, consistent with applicable federal and Idaho law, to address the continuing impacts of the 2019 Novel Coronavirus (“COVID-19”) on school district operations. Consistent with existing board policies relating to communicable diseases (Policies 555 and 562) and evolving guidance from federal, state and local authorities as to recommended measures to combat the spread of COVID-19, protect the health of students, staff and visitors, and maintain a full in-person learning environment, the board finds it necessary to adopt procedures and protocols addressing COVID-19.

As we welcome back all students to attend in person 5 days per week, the District health and safety procedures have been reviewed and updated. We continue to employ the mitigation strategies identified upon opening our schools previously with the updates as outlined in the following slides.
